

PYDS Bulletin - July 2019

Greetings to all in the PYDS Family

As we transit from Mr. Swamy, our endeavour will be to remain true to our Mission, and strive for higher and higher standards for our children. Luckily for us, Mr Swamy remains our guide and mentor, from whom we shall continue to receive counsel and guidance. PYDS has grown to become what it is with his guidance and your help over the years. Together with you, we promise to go the extra mile.

Another feather added to our cap - PYDS receives the National Award for Innovations and Experimentations in Education 2019 by Old Pro Foundation on 27th July!

UDAAN, a magazine by our students was launched. The magazine is a unique mixture of riddles, poems, jokes, life lessons, well thought articles and a lot more.

Special thanks to volunteers - Hansika Nath and Taarika Mann for this great initiative.

A friendly volleyball match was conducted to get the ball rolling for the upcoming Sports Day events. Cheer and team spirit filled the air as Gulmohar House (Blue) bagged the 1st position.

As a little break from academics, students of classes 6, 7 and 8 enjoyed watching the movie Super 30.

"All challenges are met if the determination is strong" was a common takeaway from the movie.

A fun-filled interactive Nukkad Natak for local village folk! :)

Spreading awareness in villages about yoga, healthy eating habits, and keeping surroundings clean. Good job done, kids!

An amazing opportunity for 2 students of Vocational stream - they attended a 3-day photography workshop organised by Aakriti Studio and learnt about the exposure triangle which includes 3 main features of camera - Aperture, ISO and shutter speed.

We promote STEM learning at School.

Ifrah Naaz of class 11 Science made a Perpetual Calendar using the Tinkering Lab's 3D Printer. One can change the date, week and month by simply rotating it.

The next time you visit us, please have a look.
